

What Does It Cost to Purchase Electronic and Audio Books?

In an age where podcasts, webcasts, and virtual worlds comprise a significant portion of training delivery methods, workplace learning and performance professionals are seeking similar mediums by which to digest information. Electronic and audio books are useful tools for people seeking to incorporate reading into their busy work and travel schedules.

Amazon Kindle>>

Amazon Kindle is an electronic-paper display on which to view e-books. Its wireless capability allows users to shop the Kindle Store—an online e-bookstore containing more than 185,000 books, popular U.S. and international newspapers, and nearly 1,000 blogs—directly from their Kindle. The Kindle weighs only 10.3 ounces and can hold up to 200 titles at a time.

$359 with no additional monthly bills or service plan fees.

Digital bookstores>>

An e-book is the digital media equivalent of a conventional printed book, read on personal computers or e-book readers such as the Amazon Kindle. Digital bookstores, such as eBooks.com, operate similar to Amazon, with user-friendly search features and online payment options. E-books can be purchased in several software formats, such as Adobe, Mobipocket Reader, or Microsoft Reader.

Approximately 5 to 20 percent less than the cost of print titles.

E-textbooks>>

E-textbooks are becoming increasingly more popular in colleges and universities. Students who download e-textbooks often have online access to them for 180 to 360 days.

E-textbooks are approximately half the price of printed textbooks.

Recently, a move for colleges to provide free e-textbooks has gained popularity, through websites such as www.textbookrevolution.org.

Audiobooks>>

An audiobook is a recording that is primarily of the spoken word, as opposed to music. Audiobooks can be purchased in cassette, CD, or MP3 format.

Download audiobooks on an annual plan:

One download per month:	$10 to $15
Two downloads per month:	$20 to $25
Three downloads per month:	$25 to $30

Download audiobooks on a monthly plan:

One download per month:	$15 to $20
Two downloads per month:	$25 to $30
Three downloads per month:	$30 to $35

Rent audiobooks on a monthly plan:

One rental at a time:	$15 to $20
Two rentals at a time:	$25 to $30
Three rentals at a time:	$35 to $40
Four rentals at a time:	$45 to $50