

Letter to the Editor

READER BECOMES SELZPERSIBLING

Dear Sir:

Chet Carpenter (Journal, August, 1973) is a cotton-pickin' persibling chauvinist who chose to ignore his own rules. Male chauvinist, indeed!

But what really disturbs me even more is that he has forced me to change my name! For years, for generations, for one heck of a long time, my patrynomic (or should it now be persiblynomic?) has been used by--forgive me--male members of the family. And now, oh cursed fate, it must be changed.

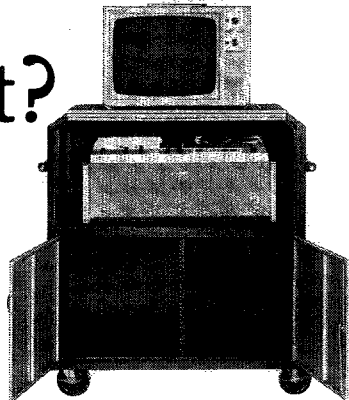

Persibling Carpenter, I am afraid, has eaten too many soft shell crabs!

Sincerely yours,

ROBERT M. SELZMAN

PS. My fepersibling secretary did not refuse to type this letter!

Why carry it?

ROLL IT!

The LUXOR Mobile VTR Console holds the video recorder, monitor and accessories in one sturdy, compact unit — safely — under lock and key.

Rugged, all-welded steel cabinet/console weighs 160 lbs. but 5" ball bearing plate casters and ample chrome handle grips permit easy maneuverability — even when loaded with heavy VTR equipment.

Compact and easy to use. After rolling the LUXOR VTR Console "on location" simply unlock and fold up the upper section to provide an eye-level mounting shelf for the monitor. This provides finger-tip access to the recorder.

Lower section is engineered to store the monitor, camera, components, cables and special systems.

The inside of the console is acoustically treated for effective sound absorption and the back wall is louvered for ventilation.
