Unlock the C-Suite: Become a Business-Minded TD Leader

Talent development (TD) leaders today must develop others and shape strategy, communicate effectively with stakeholders, and drive enterprise-wide initiatives. The Talent Development Executive Certificate is a learning experience like no other. It combines the industry expertise of the Association for Talent Development (ATD) and academic rigor of University of Pennsylvania Graduate School of Education (Penn GSE) to build personal, learning, and business leadership skills needed to successfully lead as a C-suite executive.

Who Should Attend

This program is ideal for high-potential senior talent and workplace learning leaders, including those preparing for C-suite roles, who are seeking to elevate their leadership capabilities and strategic impact. You will gain advanced skills, frameworks, and insights to position yourself as a key driver of organizational success, navigate today's complex challenges, optimize the talent function, and create lasting value.

What You Will Learn

As a result of this program, you will be positioned to:

- Lead and manage an enterprise talent or learning development organization, department, or function using communication, leadership, emotional intelligence, and decision-making skills to support the business, influence stakeholders, provide feedback, and coach team members.
- Strategically leverage emerging learning technologies and integrate them into the organization's business strategy to increase efficiency, reduce cost and time, and support the learning and talent strategy by managing the technology ecosystem effectively.
- Develop, communicate, and execute a talent strategy that aligns with the overall business strategy, fosters a culture of innovation and learning agility, and generates measurable business outcomes.

ATD and Penn GSE: A Powerful Partnership

ATD and Penn GSE have joined forces to co-offer this transformative program for talent development leaders. Led by expert Penn faculty and senior TD practitioners, the cohort-based program is tailored to the unique challenges and opportunities of senior talent leaders offering guidance, promoting knowledge-sharing, and fostering collaboration across the vast interconnected global community of TD leaders.

Format

The virtual, cohort-based course is designed for sustained learning and application, with each of the topics spanning one month. The program covers six core topics through asynchronous readings and assignments, paired with four synchronous sessions per topic each month:

- Session 1: Topic introduction, objectives, and overview of assignments and readings
- Session 2: In-depth exploration of core content
- Session 3: Continued deep dive into core content
- Session 4: Reflection on learnings, applications, and questions

Attendees will develop a strong network of peers through ongoing collaboration during the program. The learning experience incorporates global scenarios and perspectives to ensure maximum relevance for the vast interconnected global community of TD leaders.

Develop a strong network of peers through ongoing collaboration during this program.

Schedule

The program runs from September 15, 2025–March 29, 2026.

Choose the Right Certification

The Associate Professional in Talent Development (APTD®) is a certification for TD professionals who are early in their careers or whose professional roles and aspirations focus on foundational areas of the field.

WHO IS IT FOR?

APTD is best suited for early career TD professionals:

- Who want to formalize and recognize their role with a certification
- With at least three years of experience

Many of our APTD candidates are “accidental trainers” without formal education in training and development.

The Certified Professional in Talent Development (CPTD®) is a certification for more experienced TD professionals. It is broad and measures a professional’s knowledge and skill application across the breadth of talent development capabilities.

WHO IS IT FOR?

CPTD is best suited for seasoned TD professionals:

- Who have deep knowledge and experience enhancing employee talent development
- Who are looking to demonstrate expertise and commitment to the profession
- With at least five years of experience in workplace learning and talent development

ATD Master Instructional Designer® Program

Prove your ability. Elevate your design. Develop effective learning solutions.

The role of an instructional designer is evolving, expanding, and more in demand than ever. Once seen as a planner of learning events for typical classroom programs with a short set of defined tasks (such as analyzing needs, writing learning objectives, and evaluating learning programs), instructional designers now need an expanded skill set. These essential skills include business acumen, consultative approaches, design approaches based on learning sciences, and technology expertise. Designers must pivot between designing for multiple modalities such as face-to-face, e-learning, and virtual as well as implement learning solutions via multiple media streams such as e-learning modules, learning management systems, podcasts, mobile apps, videos, infographics, and animated shorts. Armed with a broader skill set, instructional designers have the flexibility to be the jack-of-all-trades and a much-requested strategic resource for organizations.

Aligned to the Talent Development Capability Model™, this advanced-level program covers the entire process for designing learning solutions to ensure that you are a valued partner to stakeholders and align learning solutions to meet business objectives.

WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND

- Develop and demonstrate mastery of instructional design through a multipart, real-world project, including individualized feedback and analysis.
- Gain six months of free access to ATD's comprehensive Talent Development Body of Knowledge™, and receive tools, resources, and templates to use on the job.
- Receive personalized feedback from your facilitator and peers.
- Accelerate your pathway toward achieving the APTD® or CPTD® certification.

To support ongoing professional development, ATD master program registration includes a complimentary course elective. Take the ATD certificate program of your choice following successful completion of your ATD master program. Exclusions apply.

ATD Master Performance Consultant™ Program

Analyze performance gaps. Deliver effective solutions.

Foster exemplary performance.

Talent development professionals are often asked to design and deliver training to address performance issues in the workplace. But what if training isn't the answer? A performance consultant thinks of training as one of many options to solve performance problems. A performance consultant uses a systematic approach to find the root causes of performance gaps, then recommends and implements solutions to address those gaps. This advanced course gives you everything you need to master a performance consulting approach in your work and make a bigger impact in your organization.

Whether you hold the formal title of performance consultant or not, the skills you learn and focus on in this course will elevate your ability by giving you a systematic and reliable approach you can use on the job to address performance issues. You will have the opportunity to assess your capabilities against key performance consulting competency areas and roles to determine your strengths and development opportunities.

ATD has been a leader in human performance improvement (HPI) for more than 20 years, and ATD's Performance Consulting Model and the ATD Performance Consulting Framework are the foundation of this course.

WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND

- Make a bigger impact in your role and elevate your status as a TD professional by learning the techniques and tools of a master performance consultant.
- Access ATD's Performance Consulting Model and Performance Consulting Framework, a step-by-step guide that takes you through the performance consulting process from beginning to end.
- Accelerate your pathway toward achieving the Associate Professional in Talent Development (APTD®) or Certified Professional in Talent Development (CPTD®) certification.

To support ongoing professional development, ATD master program registration includes a complimentary course elective. Take the ATD certificate program of your choice following successful completion of your ATD master program. Exclusions apply.

ATD Master Trainer® Program

Focused on practice and grounded in theory, prove your ability to deliver the most engaging and effective training solutions—in both the classroom and virtual environments.

The role of the trainer has evolved to include building consultative partnerships, demonstrating facilitation skills dependent on learner dynamics, and reporting on business metrics to validate the effectiveness of the learning solution. Aligned to the Talent Development Capability Model™, this renowned program covers the entire process of training delivery including purpose and assessment, decision making, planning and preparation, presentation and facilitation, performance and evaluation, and business metrics and reporting.

Engage with your cohort and facilitator to lift the conversation about training delivery to the master level, showcasing your ability to adapt to learner needs and be successful delivering in any modality (classroom, virtual, asynchronous, or a blend). Identify where you excel and where you have opportunities for growth. Benefit from a structured and collaborative learning experience and the opportunity to assess your knowledge and skills through discussion, practice, and skills demonstrations.

WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND

- Develop and demonstrate mastery of training and facilitation through multiple practice deliveries, including individualized feedback and analysis.
- Receive personalized feedback from your facilitator and peers.
- Accelerate your pathway toward achieving the APTD® or CPTD® certification.

Adult Learning Certificate

The foundational course for those who teach and develop lifelong learners.

Practices for successful adult learning differ greatly from those used for teaching children. By understanding the science behind how adults learn, as professional educators we can optimize our learning and development initiatives to better meet outcomes and drive behavior change. To put it simply, this course will change the way you work and increase your impact.

This comprehensive certificate program introduces key adult learning and cognitive science theories and demonstrates how instructional designers, facilitators, subject matter experts who train, and other practitioners can put them into practice to maximize learning impact. With this critical knowledge at your fingertips, you'll be able to use adult learning principles to inform all aspects of your education and training initiatives, from needs assessments to developing learning content to engaging and motivating participants in and outside of the classroom. You will explore how the adult brain works, including information processing, cognitive load, and communication theories and how these can be deployed in a learning setting.

WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND

- Gain a comprehensive understanding of applying adult learning and cognitive science theory to help you improve your talent development efforts.
- See adult learning principles in action through ATD expert facilitation and course design and activities.
- Apply your learning through case studies, reflections, peer collaboration, and a personalized project.

Articulate Rise Certificate

Develop engaging e-learning that interacts with all audiences and devices.

Talent development professionals rely on e-learning solutions to reach employees with fast-paced schedules on their own time. Articulate Rise 360 is a simple, flexible platform that makes it easy for any TD professional, regardless of technical ability, to create and publish e-learning content. The ATD Articulate Rise Certificate program gets you up to speed quickly on how to use the tool to author your content. Unlike other tutorials, ATD's certificate was developed and is facilitated by industry-leading e-learning experts in the TD field who understand your audience. During the course, you will learn how to use Articulate Rise through hands-on practice developing your own example course, incorporating text, images, video, audio, quizzes, and interactive activities. As you master each skill, you will get valuable tips and feedback from your facilitator and peers and discover best practices for managing your e-learning course, including duplicating content and lessons, managing settings, and publishing review and final versions. You will leave the program equipped to author e-learning program content right away. Participants will need access to Rise 360 for the program.

WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND

- Develop beautiful, engaging e-learning experiences with text and images, audio and video, and interactions and quizzes.
- Fast-track your e-learning authoring skills by learning this industry-standard tool in less time than you would on your own.
- Leave equipped to build a complete course from start to finish using Articulate Rise's major features.

Blended Learning Certificate

Go beyond traditional classroom learning.

Learn to incorporate a mix of delivery methodologies to reach your learners at their moment of need. This blended learning training program models the concepts taught in the workshop. You'll begin with a pre-work assignment that you'll continue working on throughout the course. Later, you'll reconvene with your cohort in an online session following the classroom-based workshop. By adapting your own training program to a blended format as the course unfolds, you'll enhance your ability to apply blended learning models on the job.

WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND

- Learn best practices for selecting and using the appropriate mix of innovative learning technologies to design effective blended solutions.
- Design a complete blended learning program using an ATD-exclusive process and templates.
- Anticipate and navigate the challenges associated with blended learning.

Change Management Certificate

Become a change leader, facilitator, and communicator.

Change is a key part of talent development (TD). Every learning initiative requires some level of organizational change regardless of whether it is a formal change project. But change isn't easy, and most change initiatives fail. The question is why? To understand change, you need to understand the people and organization that are affected. As TD professionals, we are accountable for training and nurturing our colleagues so that they can be their best selves at work. This is never more critical than during change.

The ATD Change Management Certificate explores the process of facilitating organizational change and introduces the ATD CHANGE model, a strategic and tactical tool to guide you through the process of leading and influencing change. The program starts with a deep dive into the science of change to understand why change can be hard on both people and organizations. We then move on to the principles and stages of the ATD CHANGE model, grounded in theory and best practices but designed specifically to meet the needs of the TD field. Using a case study and working with an expert facilitator and your peers, you'll have the chance to apply each stage of the model to a real-world, TD scenario. Armed with a step-by-step approach and plenty of supporting tools and resources, you will leave the program ready to become a change leader who is prepared to navigate the personal and organizational dynamics of change in today's work environment.

WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND

- Become a trusted resource ready to facilitate all stages of a change initiative in your organization.
- Drive meaningful organizational change using the latest change management and project management resources and tools to increase speed, efficiency, and overall success.
- Plan and prepare change projects by assessing change needs and organizational readiness, building a change team, and forming a change plan.

Coaching Certificate

Help others develop, take action, and reach their goals.

Evidence shows that coaching for individuals, teams, and organizations is a powerful development tool that leads to positive change and results. Earning the ATD Coaching Certificate improves your ability to help the people you coach develop rapidly, produce better results, improve their ability to achieve goals, and take action.

During this program, you will come to better understand yourself in the role of coach, uncovering your biases, strengths, and areas of development, so that you may refine your coaching approach for increased impact. The focus of this course is on practice, allowing you to quickly incorporate theories, models, and processes into your coaching conversations while receiving real-time feedback from your peers and an expert facilitator. You will leave this program better equipped to help individuals succeed by leveraging their natural strengths.

WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND

- Practice core coaching competencies, skills, and strategies and hone your ability to apply them to coaching conversations.
- Refine your coaching approach by recognizing and evaluating factors that impact client engagements.
- Use the ATD Coaching Model to develop and maintain effective coaching plans with those whom you coach.

Consulting Skills Certificate

Build your credibility as a trusted consultant.

ATD's Consulting Skills Certificate provides you with a five-phase consulting model—rooted in a performance-based approach that prioritizes results over activities—that you can use to diagnose needs, establish goals, and achieve desired performance outcomes for your learning projects. The five phases of the process lay out a practical, step-by-step method for addressing a consulting project, beginning from initial contact through the final step of process improvement.

Together with an expert facilitator and a class of your peers, you will explore how to be successful as a consultant. Collaborating in small groups, you will follow a case study from start to finish, apply skills from each phase of the consulting model to practice consulting scenarios, solve problems, role-play meetings, try out checklists, and practice making decisions consultants make every day. You will leave the program prepared to establish strong client partnerships, overcome obstacles and resistance, and build your consulting credibility to influence decision making.

WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND

- Move from order taker to true business partner by applying an ATD-exclusive model, techniques, and tools to successfully consult with organizations to implement talent development projects.
- Maximize success strategies with internal and external clients, including working across organizational boundaries, providing feedback to senior leaders, and gaining buy-in.
- Evaluate your baseline consulting skills, and identify your developmental needs as a consultant.

Creating Leadership Development Programs Certificate

Develop your future superstars.

Design and implement transformational leadership development programs that nurture high performers and prepare them to take on new roles within your organization. Take your leadership initiatives beyond individual training events and build the foundation for a holistic leadership development process that begins by laying the groundwork and partnering with senior executives.

The ATD LEADS model, an exclusive model based on industry-leading research and best practices, serves as the foundation for the course. Using the model as a guide, we will explore all the components necessary to build a successful program, from establishing organizational readiness and analyzing various assessment models to evaluating leadership competencies and behaviors and their relationship to your organization's workforce needs. Six case studies allow you to learn from other organizations that have implemented leadership development programs. This course addresses identifying candidates and designing developmental opportunities, including creating learning events. You will also learn how to sustain programs by demonstrating their impact on the bottom line.

WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND

- Discover the components of planning, designing, and sustaining best-in-class leadership development programs.
- Directly align leadership development programs to your organization's culture, goals, vision, and mission.
- Review the latest research and trends on leadership development and compare best practices against your organization's current approach.

DEI in Talent Development Certificate

Foster and develop a diverse, equitable, and inclusive workforce.

Fostering a diverse, equitable, and inclusive workforce and workplace involves awareness of and appreciation for different perspectives, backgrounds, customs, abilities, and behavior norms. Talent development professionals are in a unique position to ensure that every employee in their organization is respected and engaged and that their organization realizes the significant benefits of an inclusive approach.

Throughout this course, you will explore key themes and concepts encompassing many facets of diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) and discover the tools necessary to support DEI through your role as a talent development practitioner. In alignment with the Talent Development Capability Model™, you will examine your organizational impact from three unique perspectives—personal, professional, and organizational—and identify strategies to expand your mindset, practices, and influence.

WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND

- Feel empowered to develop and lead others in a diverse, inclusive, and equitable manner.
- Gain the knowledge, resources, and tools you or your team needs to integrate DEI into your talent development efforts.
- Optimize your talent, drive meaningful change, and strengthen your workforce and your workplace.

Designing Training Videos Certificate

Design training videos that promote engagement, learning, and knowledge transfer.

Talent development professionals are increasingly called on to create training video content that extends learning in the classroom and beyond. Yet, a lot of training videos are little more than recorded presentations that are both hard to follow and easy to forget. This unique program combines instructional design and media skills to equip you to design engaging, memorable training videos that promote learning. The focus of this program is on the content side of production.

Drawing on both video psychology and learning theory, the course takes you through a step-by-step planning process for structuring learner-centered videos. As part of the experience, you will design and prepare a video for production and a rough cut for viewing. You will explore how video works as a modality—applying techniques to keep viewers’ attention, ensuring your message is quick and easy to understand, and finding ways to structure content so it’s easy to remember. You will learn visual storytelling skills and how to write video scripts. This program focuses on the design considerations for creating training videos. If you are interested in the actual creation and production of video, consider enrolling in the Filming & Editing Training Videos Certificate. These two programs are complementary and, in combination, cover the complete video creation process.

WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND

- Add video design skills to your instructional design and facilitation toolkit.
- Design training videos that promote effective learning and maximize knowledge transfer.
- Apply techniques from film and television best practices to engage the viewer.
- Leverage video skills to reach dispersed audiences, scale communication, and show instead of tell important concepts in learning experiences.

E-Learning Instructional Design Certificate

Great e-learning starts with great instructional design.

Self-paced e-learning can be deployed in a variety of ways—from full courses to performance support opportunities to blended learning experiences. Regardless of how you use e-learning, intentional and thoughtful instructional design is an essential element. Well-designed e-learning courses and modules engage learners and enable them to acquire and apply new knowledge and skills.

This course covers the entire instructional design process from start to finish and shows you how to apply that process to e-learning projects. Under the guidance of an experienced facilitator, you'll have the chance to focus on and practice critical e-learning course creation tasks.

WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND

- Explore ways to present, structure, and sequence e-learning content that is learner-centric, engaging, and impactful.
- Use design thinking and rapid prototyping to minimize rework and accelerate your e-learning project.
- Gain access to a collection of more than 20 templates and tools you can use immediately on the job.

Evaluating Learning Impact Certificate

Demonstrate the results of your talent development investments.

Measure the success of any talent development program using a proven evaluation methodology that includes a five-level evaluation framework. This comprehensive and scalable methodology will provide you with a simple, practical process, guiding principles for standardization, and a sustainable implementation strategy.

Learn the basics of evaluation design, including how to select appropriate strategies and measurement tools, how to collect and analyze data to show the value of investments, and how to establish and communicate evidence to demonstrate the effectiveness of your learning, development, or human resource initiatives. This evidence may include measures of how participants reacted to, learned from, and applied what they learned and how such evidence impacts targeted organization business goals.

WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND

- Develop a solid foundation to measure the success of any talent development program or solution.
- Help your organization shift from activity-based to results-based talent development programs.
- Build a credible business case to stakeholders and leaders for learning investment, and, ideally, increased evaluation in your organization.

Filming & Editing Training Videos Certificate

Gain the confidence to shoot and edit your own training videos.

This interactive program puts you in the role of videographer, empowering you to create quality media for your learning programs—on your own, quickly, and cost-effectively. The focus of this program is on video production, both filming and editing, using only a smartphone and freely available editing software. You will actively engage in creating professional quality film footage throughout this hands-on program—mastering how to balance quality and speed. Learn to frame and capture crisp footage, make it flow, and edit content into a polished training video that maximizes learner engagement. By using professional best practices and trusted techniques, your training videos will be clearer, smoother, and more refined. This program focuses on the process of creating and producing training videos. If you are interested in the design of training videos, consider enrolling in the Designing Training Videos Certificate. These two programs are complementary and, in combination, cover the complete video creation process.

WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND

- Create professional-quality video assets to support your training and workplace learning initiatives.
- Gain practical video production skills that can be immediately applied to your own projects.
- Use proven techniques and an efficient process to film, review, and edit video footage.
- Save budget and time by eliminating the need to outsource video production.

Human Performance Improvement Certificate

Enhance performance with a systematic and results-based approach, driven by business needs.

Human performance improvement (HPI) is at the heart of talent development. As a results-based systematic process, HPI is used to identify, analyze, and address performance problems in the workplace and gives the TD professional a proven methodology to tackle performance gaps. This course provides you with an understanding of HPI and the powerful role it plays in the development of our workforces.

With this foundation in HPI, you can begin to take your TD work beyond learning and development projects to operate as a strategic partner with your organization to identify solutions that improve business outcomes (like reducing costs, saving time, and increasing customer satisfaction). Knowledge and skills gaps account for only a small portion of performance-related issues in the workplace. This program will help you identify other potential performance enablers, such as motivation, managerial support, technology, resources, organizational structure, and processes. Leaving these factors out of your solutions could mean you are minimizing your potential impact by creating programs that don't truly address the root of the problem.

WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND

- Take the first step to becoming a performance consultant by building a foundation in HPI principles.
- Discover a step-by-step, systematic process to determine performance gaps, and create solutions to address those gaps.
- Learn to better analyze organizational needs so that you can propose solutions that go beyond training as a one-size-fits-all approach.

Instructional Design Certificate

Leverage exclusive ATD templates and tools to develop the most powerful, bottom-line focused learning.

As an instructional designer, you have the power to change organizational results by designing learning experiences that give participants the knowledge and skills needed to perform their jobs well. To be an effective instructional designer, you need a structured, step-by-step design process that you can rely on to create outcome-based training.

In the Instructional Design Certificate course, you'll gain access to all the approaches, design models, and tools you need to create meaningful learning events. The program consists of 10 modules that address all aspects of the instructional design process in detail: assessing organizational needs, designing the learning experience, developing materials, and evaluating effectiveness—giving you a complete playbook for how to create training programs. As you go through the course, you'll practice each step of the design process—getting guidance and feedback along the way.

WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND

- Explore the breadth of the instructional design process from start to finish.
- Address common challenges such as engagement, motivation, and retention through good design.
- Gain access to a collection of more than 20 templates and tools you can use in your practice.

“This was a phenomenal program and I would recommend it from the perspective of any practitioner venturing into the industry of talent management.”

—JESSICA THOMPSON,
INTEGRATED TALENT MANAGEMENT CERTIFICATE

Leading in Talent Development Certificate

Elevate Your Skills as a Strategic Learning Partner.

Acquire advanced skills to develop others and drive business success as a strategic learning leader in talent development. Tailored for talent development leaders with prior management experience, this program facilitates the shift from team management to strategic leadership. You will develop a systems thinking approach, focusing on the impact of your contributions to learning, and master key competencies in business acumen, organizational systems, and performance support. The curriculum emphasizes actionable skills for leading individuals, teams, and the organization, fostering team growth and aligning learning strategy with business objectives. Key benefits include a balance of conceptual and practical knowledge, enhanced strategic influence, and leadership development at all levels within the talent development function and the broader organization.

WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND

- Build the skills to lead effectively from within talent development to influence across levels and drive results for the organization.
- Identify how to elevate beyond your role and strategically drive the business forward, using learning as a lever to increase performance.
- Apply systems thinking to strategic leader role to connect the business to learning strategy.

Learning Technologies Certificate

Maximize your talent development initiatives with the right technology and tools.

From learning management systems to virtual classroom platforms to e-learning tools, learning technologies big and small are essential for modern training initiatives. A learning technology ecosystem includes these platforms, tools, and more. We define the ecosystem as the various learning technologies and infrastructure used to execute an organization's talent and development strategy.

This course will give you the knowledge and tools to source and evaluate learning technologies as well as the knowledge and skills you need to conceptualize a holistic learning technology ecosystem. We'll explore e-learning and learning delivery software, data standards, user experience design, extended reality, artificial intelligence, and accessibility considerations. This program will provide you with access to ATD-exclusive templates and tools you can apply immediately to develop your own learning technology ecosystem architecture.

WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND

- Discover common practices and approaches for identifying, selecting, implementing, and maintaining learning technologies that will enhance your learning and talent strategies.
- Get techniques for assessing, defining, and articulating technology requirements.
- Learn how to configure and support a learning technology ecosystem that meets your organization's needs along with its talent development goals.

Managing in Talent Development Certificate

Acquire essential skills to expertly manage a talent development team.

Have you recently stepped into a management role for the first time? Transitioning from an individual contributor to a talent development manager can be a complex journey, filled with new responsibilities and expectations. Whether your new team consists of just one or two members or spans across a larger department, you now play a pivotal role in shaping success beyond your own contributions. Developed specifically for emerging talent development managers, this certificate program is designed to equip you with the essential knowledge and actionable skills needed to navigate this transition successfully.

Build your confidence by mastering the core competencies every new manager needs—delegating tasks, managing team dynamics, optimizing performance, and setting goals that align to business strategy—and applying those skills specifically to real-world talent development scenarios. As you explore the complexities of leading in talent development, you'll gain valuable insights and tools necessary to drive success for yourself, your team, and your organization. By the end of the program, you will emerge as a capable leader, ready to tackle the challenges of a talent development management role and make a meaningful impact.

WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND

- Accelerate your transition into your new management role by adopting purposeful leadership.
- Acquire essential tools and insights to thrive in your evolving position.
- Develop strategies to optimize your team's performance and broaden your influence throughout your organization.

Measuring Return on Investment Certificate

Use ROI to demonstrate the real value of talent development.

Show the value of talent development initiatives using the measures that matter to your leaders and executives. To remain relevant, you must know how to answer two questions before they are asked. First, how do you know the impact you are claiming is due to your initiative and not something else? Second, how do you know the initiative was a good investment of resources? This course will show you how to answer both questions using the language and measures leaders expect and respect. Beyond addressing just training programs, you'll learn to answer these questions for talent development, organization development, human resources, technology, change, or quality solutions.

During this certificate program, you will learn to demonstrate and communicate with credibility the impact and ROI of your initiatives using the globally recognized ROI Methodology, developed by the ROI Institute, Inc. The ROI Methodology offers a comprehensive, systematic approach to demonstrating value for money invested in all programs, projects, and initiatives. Learn and practice techniques to isolate the direct effects of your programs to improve business measures, convert impact measures to money, identify important intangibles, and calculate ROI. Uncover how to use this data to communicate the need for and make better decisions about talent development investments to improve organization performance. As a participant of this course, you will get a free e-book, ROI Basics, 2nd Edition.

WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND

- Be able to apply the ROI Methodology end-to-end back on the job to measure the impact of your talent and organization development solutions.
- Link your talent development program objectives to business results to gain visibility, credibility, and future investment from senior leadership.
- Work through a complete evaluation plan in the course for one of your own programs, with guidance from expert facilitators who are true evaluation practitioners.

Microlearning Certificate

Use bite-sized learning for employee development.

This certificate program guides you through the entire process of designing, creating, and promoting a microlearning program using the exclusive MicroLEarning Design Model (MILE). You will define microlearning, review current trends, determine the appropriate contexts for its use, and learn how to turn videos, blogs, infographics, e-learning activities, and more into effective microlearning resources. We will analyze successful microlearning examples, including those created without a Learning Management System (LMS), taking away ideas for our own future programs.

WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND

- Find out when and how to use microlearning to implement your learning strategy.
- Practice applying the MILE model to design and develop a microlearning resource.
- Deliver timely talent development solutions that meet the demands of today's fast-paced business environment.

Needs Assessment Certificate

Identify individual and organizational performance needs before developing effective solutions.

Needs assessment is an essential task in identifying, deciding upon, and developing talent development solutions. A needs assessment uncovers the cause of performance gaps, and the results provide a roadmap for the talent development professional to create targeted solutions that achieve desired outcomes at both the individual and organizational levels.

WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND

- Align talent development solutions with business outcomes to maximize impact, increase your professional competence, and ensure you are a valued partner to your organization.
- Discover ways to confirm whether business issues or performance gaps are due to a lack of knowledge or skill or other factors.
- Confront stakeholder resistance with confidence by adding clarity to your approaches for reporting findings and recommendations.

New Employee Onboarding Certificate

Develop for high performance from the start with successful new employee onboarding.

Employee onboarding programs are among the most common training offerings that talent development professionals oversee. Effective programs to orient and prepare staff are not only essential to individual success, but they also position the organization to attract, retain, and develop top talent. However, many onboarding programs are a disconnected set of presentations and meetings that lack cohesion and measurable outcomes.

WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND

- Learn how to develop an onboarding program, from business case to implementation, at your organization.
- Refresh the content of an existing onboarding program.
- Improve employee engagement by providing tools for successful new hire integration.

Project Management Certificate

Run your learning projects efficiently and with greater impact.

If you work in talent development, you are more than likely running projects all day every day. These projects may include creating or updating training programs, partnering with your IT department to implement a new technology platform or tool, such as a virtual learning platform or a learning management system (LMS), or overseeing an organization-wide learning initiative, such as a leadership development program. As talent development continues to grow and change to meet learner needs, having a systematic project management approach enables you to successfully oversee projects with increasing complexity and greater impact.

Regardless of the type, every learning project needs a strong project manager who is skilled in developing and managing timelines and budgets, setting priorities, minimizing risks, and gathering stakeholder input. The benefit of this certificate program is that it introduces you to core project management skills and shows you how to apply those skills specifically to a TD environment through examples and hands-on activities. As a result, you'll be able to manage learning projects more efficiently through systematic, repeatable, and adaptable processes tailored to our field. Whether you work within a talent development department or organization or as an independent consultant, becoming a skilled and capable project manager makes you a valuable asset to the team you support.

WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND

- Learn established project management approaches and how you can apply them to a TD context.
- Become a skilled project manager who can take on and manage any learning project with ease.
- Practice project management tasks throughout the program and get proven techniques to stay ahead of and quickly resolve issues when managing projects.

Test Design and Delivery Certificate

Develop reliable tests for training, certification, and management decision making.

Learning professionals use tests for a variety of reasons, yet the guidelines and best practices for developing reliable and valid tests are not widely known. This program, offered in partnership with ACT Inc., provides a comprehensive approach to ensuring your tests measure what they claim to measure, both consistently and reliably.

Through examples and application exercises, learn the entire test development and delivery process, including planning the test, creating test items, creating the test form, delivering the test, and evaluating the test. Ample time will be dedicated to item-writing so you can gain experience generating well-crafted test items. Learn from facilitators who are real-world consultants whose professional focus is to help organizations improve their testing practices.

WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND

- Gain a systematic approach for developing and administering tests that will meet your organization's needs and follow professional standards.
- Develop tests that do not put your organization in legal jeopardy.
- Become knowledgeable in testing best practices to increase your credibility within your organization.

Training and Facilitation Certificate

Experience the premier train-the-trainer course.

This training certificate course covers the entire end-to-end training cycle, including planning and preparing a training event, managing the learning environment and engaging participants in the classroom, and following up post-event to continue to support learning. We'll cover the science behind learning, and why and how learner needs and preferences, training techniques, classroom environment, and well-structured materials all affect learning outcomes. At the end of the course, you will have the opportunity to demonstrate your techniques in a skills training practice where you will receive feedback and guidance from peers and an ATD expert facilitator.

WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND

- Get an overview of all phases of the training cycle from the planning phase through the evaluation phase.
- Leave with the knowledge and skills to become a participant-focused facilitator in any environment, from large-scale training events to meetings and presentations.
- Learn from an expert trainer and facilitator, who will demonstrate best practices in the classroom and receive personalized, actionable feedback.

"I would like to one day manage my own training program. This course gave me all of the pertinent info to design the course and maximize my impact in the classroom to start on that career path."

—JARED NOLAN, TRAINING & FACILITATION CERTIFICATE

Training Design and Delivery Certificate

Design accurately. Deliver flawlessly. Transform mindsets.

Are you ready to advance your career as a talent development professional? Get started with this fast-paced training design boot camp that will build your foundational skills in both instructional design and training and facilitation, all in one program.

The course kicks off with an overview of the ADDIE model for instructional design and then walks you through each phase of the design process. During the first half of the course, you will learn how to apply the model's tools and principles using a human performance improvement approach.

The second half of the program introduces the training cycle. You will learn best practices and the latest techniques for each step of the cycle and have an opportunity to practice your facilitation skills and receive feedback.

WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND

- Access two certificates in one and accelerate your learning! Material from ATD's Instructional Design Certificate and Training & Facilitation Certificate are provided in this single five-day experience (instead of six).
- Build a foundation in core instructional design methods and activities: conducting a needs assessment, developing learning objectives, and evaluating the impact of your training initiatives.
- Apply effective facilitation techniques to engage participants, create an effective and positive learning environment, and manage classroom challenges.

Virtual Instructional Design Certificate

Design engaging training for the virtual classroom.

Intentional and thoughtful instructional design is necessary for successful virtual learning events. Well-designed virtual experiences (specifically, instructor-led synchronous experiences), supported by well-designed materials, keep learners motivated and engaged throughout the learning experience.

An effective instructional design process follows a system of assessing needs, designing a process, developing materials, and evaluating effectiveness. Creating programs for a virtual platform is no different. Core instructional design fundamentals require analysis and selection of the most appropriate strategies, methodologies, and technologies to maximize the learning experience and knowledge transfer—whether you are converting a face-to-face classroom course or designing for a virtual delivery from the beginning.

WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND

- Cover actionable best practices for virtual instructional design and gain access to a collection of more than 20 tools and templates you can use in your own practice.
- Apply your new knowledge and skills on an authentic learning project for virtual instruction, and receive feedback from an ATD expert facilitator.
- Create a personal action plan to hold yourself accountable for applying what you have learned.

Adult Learning: Theory to Practice | When you understand how adults learn, you can create learning experiences that achieve real results.

Get ATDYou courses individually or save with the entire library.

Cognitive Science in Learning | To effectively design learning experiences with high learner retention, instructional designers must be knowledgeable about the science of learning.

Communication in Learning | By understanding what communication is and the foundational communication models, talent development professionals can create more effective communication within learning experiences.

The ADDIE Model for Instructional Design | In this course, you will explore each of these five phases of the ADDIE model, how they interact to support an effective instructional design practice, and how to apply them to support your own practice.

Instructional Design Models and Processes | This course equips you to design learning experiences more effectively by providing a solid foundation in learning theories and a thorough understanding of how adults learn best.

Conducting a Needs Assessment for Instructional Design | In this course, you'll learn when and how to conduct a needs assessment, including a few tricks for when stakeholders would rather you "just get started."

Data Collection for Needs Assessments | In this course, you'll learn about various techniques you can use to gather data to help you make smart, strategic choices about your training design.

Defining Behavioral Outcomes | Instructional designers use the results of a needs assessment to identify and define learning and behavior outcome statements.

Writing Learning Objectives | When you take the time to determine business goals and the associated learning objectives for a training initiative, you can ensure that all stakeholders are aligned about what you're trying to accomplish, your learners know why they are taking the course, and you have a clear understanding of how to make it all happen.

Assessing Learning Content | This course will explore these three approaches, along with how to assess content to make sure it aligns with your organization's objectives.

Developing Design Documents | In this course, you'll learn how and why to use design documents to start your projects off right.

Working With SMEs to Curate and Create Content | In this course, you will learn how to work collaboratively with SMEs and explore how to make content decisions that align to the learning objectives.

Selecting Delivery Methods and Media | Any given method can be supported by a variety of delivery media and technology, so it is important to understand the considerations for choosing the right methods, media, and technology for specific learning environments and modalities.

Designing and Developing Learning Materials | This course will cover the foundational principles of designing learning materials for use in workplace training and talent development to ensure more effective learning experiences.

Prototyping for Instructional Design | This course will help you decide when and how to use prototypes to test your ideas early and often, gaining valuable feedback to shape your designs along the way.

Design Thinking for Instructional Design |

Design thinking is a human-centered approach to creating solutions that address the needs of both individual learners and the organization.

Planning and Coordinating Training Events |

Whether you're coordinating in-person, virtual, or asynchronous training events, this course will help you ensure these, and many more details all support your big-picture goal.

Preparing to Facilitate | This course explores effective preparation for facilitation, including understanding how your course relates to organizational goals, learning about the participants, and practicing your delivery mechanics.

Managing and Facilitating Effective Meetings |

This course covers how to effectively prepare for, facilitate, and make decisions during meetings.

Facilitation Styles and Techniques |

Facilitation requires rigorous preparation, a pleasant and personable demeanor, and honed skills.

Engaging and Managing Participants |

Engaging and managing participants is key to effective training delivery and facilitation and helps improve learning transfer.

Creating a Positive Learning Environment |

An effective learning environment should be welcoming to all.

Selecting Delivery Strategies to Support the Learning Experience |

In this course, you'll explore factors and considerations that can help you select just the right strategy for these situations and more.

Applying Learning Science in Training Delivery |

Possessing a clear understanding of cognitive processes allows you to deliver learning that is retained and applied on the job.

Facilitating Formal Learning |

Today's environment requires skill in delivering training using multiple delivery modalities, whether in person, virtual, or a blend.

Supporting Informal Learning and Learning on the Job |

When you harness the power of informal learning and learning on the job, you can provide more and richer learning opportunities than you can with formal learning alone.

Adapting Learning Materials | In this course, you will learn how to adapt learning materials when training-program factors like timing, logistics, relevance, and learning requirements change.

Creating Accessible Learning Experiences |

In this course, you'll learn the foundational principles to help you create accessible, inclusive learning programs that support learners with a broad range of abilities.

Administering a Learning Technology Ecosystem |

A robust, dynamic talent development department needs a robust, dynamic technology ecosystem.

Data Standard Formats |

In this course, you'll learn about some of the most important data standard formats (such as SCORM and xAPI) that you can rely on to make sure your content works with the various systems in your organization.

xAPI Foundations | Using the xAPI data format lets you track valuable, detailed information that can help you track and evaluate the usage and effectiveness of your digital learning experiences.

Identifying Technology System Requirements |

In this course, you'll learn to clearly identify your technology system requirements before you invest time and money in new tools.
