Hi

As we move through these times of change and uncertainty, it's crucial to come together as a community. The ATD NYC Chapter is dedicated to providing a supportive and inclusive space for talent development professionals.

In this month's newsletter, we'll share exciting updates, including details about our 2nd Annual Micro-Conference. This event promises to be a fantastic opportunity for learning, networking, and professional growth.

We hope you enjoy this month's issue and find it valuable. As always, we welcome your feedback and encourage you to get involved with our chapter. Together, we can build a stronger, more vibrant community of talent development professionals.

In this month's issue:

- Applications open: AVPs at ATD NYC!
- ATD NYC Podcast: Incorporating Mindfulness into Coaching Sessions
- ATD NYC's 2nd Annual Micro-Conference!
- A curated list of job opportunities in NYC (or remote)
- Featured resource of the month

VOLUNTEER SPOTLIGHT

VOLUNTEER SPOTLIGHT

IRINI GAGLOS

VP of Finance

This Month's ATD NYC Volunteer Spotlight

This month, we're spotlighting Irini Gaglos, VP of Finance. Irini's contribution to the talent development community shines through her work in managing our chapter's finances so that we can achieve our strategic goals and support our members' professional development. Learn more about Irini below:

Area of expertise: Training & Development

How do you contribute to the ATD NYC chapter as a volunteer? I serve as Vice President of Finance and handle all the money. You can consider me the bouncer at the ATD NYC bank account.

How would you describe the ATD NYC community in 1-2 sentences? Kind, caring, open, conversational, supportive. ATD NYC is a great community of leaders in the industry that have a genuine care for the field and for each other. I'm grateful to be a part of it.

What are three words that best describe you? Empathetic, goofy, and kind

What's your favorite NYC spot? I LOVE the Seaport and DUMBO areas. I'm an avid email reader so try to hit up random events that happen in the city.
