

Kinney On Training Team To Africa

Alfred R. Kinney, Jr., Chief, Training Methods Development Section, Training Program, National Communicable Disease Center, is a member of a Center team joining consultants from Europe in conducting a conference on training methods and materials for the World Health Organization at their Malaria Eradication Training Center in Lagos, Nigeria, in late April and early May. En route to Nigeria, he will spend several days serving as a training methods consultant to a health training program in Monrovia, Liberia. Currently a member of the ASTD committees on National Conference Design and National Institutes, he is a charter member of the Greater Atlanta Chapter, ASTD.

The Lagos Conference membership will include the faculties of the two MET's in Africa (the other being at Lome) as well as representatives of other malaria eradication training activities in Africa and Asia.
